1. Introduction. In this paper, we conduct a comprehensive survey that describes the current practice of corporate finance. Perhaps the best-known field study in this area is John Lintner's (1956) path-breaking analysis of dividend policy. The results of that study are still quoted today and have deeply affected the way that dividend policy research is conducted.

The chart says that the more education you receive, the higher your chances of becoming a millionaire across all races. This makes sense since high-paying jobs often require higher levels of education e.g. lawyer, doctor, executive management, and scientist. However, thanks to free online learning and shorter specialty school programs, a college degree is slowly getting devalued.
